

THE FIRST MEONBRIDGE CHRONICLE

FORTUNE'S WHEEL

CAROLYN HUGHES

Key selling points

- Cleverly crafted historical fiction set in medieval Britain.
- The first in a series of three gripping novels which will comprise The Meonbridge Chronicles.
- Strong female protagonists are at the core of this character-lead novel.

About the book

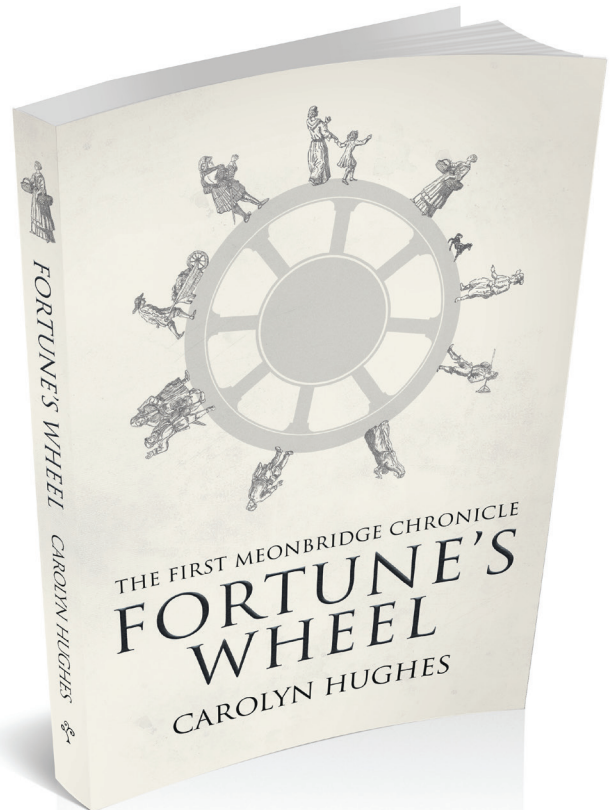

June 1349. In a Hampshire village, the worst plague in England's history has wiped out half its population, including Alice atte Wode's husband and eldest son. The plague arrived only days after Alice's daughter Agnes mysteriously disappeared, and it prevented the search for her.

Now the plague is over, the village is trying to return to normal life, but it's hard, with so much to do and so few left to do it. Conflict is growing between the manor and its tenants, as the workers realise their very scarceness means they're more valuable than before.

Alice is disheartened that the search for Agnes is once more put on hold. When one of the rebels is killed, and then the lord's son is found murdered, it seems the two deaths may be connected, both to each other and to Agnes's disappearance.

About the author

Carolyn Hughes was born in London, but has lived most of her life in Hampshire. She has a Master's in Creative Writing from Portsmouth University and a PhD from the University of Southampton. Fortune's Wheel is her first published novel.

PLAGUE WIDOW
ALICE ATTE WODE
IS DESPERATE TO
FIND HER MISSING
DAUGHTER

Book information

Publication Date	7 November 2016
ISBN	978-1-78132-582-7
Illustrations	0
Dimensions	229 x 152mm
Extent	270 pages
RRP	£9.99
BIC	FV
Rights	Worldwide
Ebooks	.epub and .mobi

Bookseller and library discounts available
Published by SilverWood Books
Available to order from Bertrams

 facebook.com/silverwoodbooks

 @SilverWoodBooks

 @silverwood_books